Our Quality

OUR BAMBOO POLES

We harvest and use only superior Tinik or Butong bamboo species that are Construction Grade "A" poles, with the optimum age range of 3-4 seasons old (to young or to old is not good), healthy and must have no signs of boring insects and or disease.

TREATMENT

7 Days Boron Treatment

Submerged in our 3 part proprietary treatment solution for unrivaled protection from fungus and wood boring insects.

DRYING

Dried to a minimum 12-14% moisture content (and always prior to construction)

FIT & FINISH

Only grade "A" poles used in all our construction.

Peeled and sanded to perfection.

All parts are matched in tone & color for a superior finished product.

4 COAT PREMIUM FINISH with UV

1 coat sanding sealer and 3 top coats

We apply 4 coats of our proprietary custom made PU coating specifically designed for Bamboo, and with high UV protection.

Available range flat to high gloss.

PLUGS IN ALL CRITICAL JOINTS

Means No cracking and splitting of critical joints

ADHESIVE

Where required, we use only Water Resistant Class 3 - E1.

EPOXY

All joints are assembled to the highest tolerances utilizing an imported construction grade 2 part epoxy. This means unbelievable strength; as a matter of fact, the bamboo will fail before the joint ever fails.

UPHOLSTERY

We can provide full in-house upholstery services.

We offer both waterproof, & water repellent, 100% Solution Dyed Acrylic Fabrics.

CUSHION SETS

Outdoor fabrics are different from indoor fabrics in the way they are made. They have to be more durable, and they must undergo a special chemical treatment process during manufacturing that makes them mildew and stain resistant. All outdoor fabrics are woven fibers that differ in strength and durability. The main difference between the different types of outdoor fabric really lies in the manufacturing process and the type of fibers that they are made from BGF Poly-Olefin is a man-made fiber that is usually used with other fibers to create outdoor fabric blends. It is used in outdoor furniture and for other applications, such as house wrap, marine/boat upholstery and coverings even clothing. poly-olefin has a smooth texture and is solution-dyed. It is a durable fabric that dries quickly and resistant to weathering, chemicals, stains and mildew.
